Presentation

Dear teachers,

Our successful 'Trends in Teaching' seminar programme is back with its third year, offering you a new chance to participate in workshops for teachers by experts in education. As the academic year is just getting started, we hope that motivation is not in short supply, but we all know that, as the year progresses, enthusiasm can wane! To help you with that, Pere Cortiella and Juliet McArdle will be looking at motivation from different angles providing you with activities and ideas for both students and teachers.
